PRICE, THREE CENTS

NARBERTH SWAMPS OAKMONT BY 23-0

Walzermen Begin Climb for Pennant Laurels in Shutout.

HUMPHRIES IS THE HERO

By JOHN UBERTI

On Saturday, July 28, Narberth made its first move toward the 1928 Main Line League throne as it swamped Oakmont 23-0. This is merely another way of saying that poor box work and lack of field collaboration were the cause of the visitor's set-back. They were the third raw and undeveloped aggregation met this year; the All Stars and Riverside succumbing likewise, previously. Three times during this fracas Narberth's incessant pounding threw three moundsmen from the hill.

Under Fred's advice, the same number took to the local mound during the contest, but only to see what the boys could do, their original position being in the outfield. The three visiting pitchers allowed 14 hits as Narberth sympathetically let them have four.

Johnny Gillespie, all-around athlete at Villanova College, and leading hitter on his ball team, stood opposite Zip Long, of Pennac, who heaved the first six frames, and then received the best from Peterson, West Catholic hurler and University of Pennsylvania outfielder.

The most surprising field activities of the local club was offered by Humphries, third baseman. The veteran, who at the beginning of the season was somewhat off form, had played sparkling ball during the recent contests. Hitting like the rest of the crop and fielding with the alacrity of a young lynx, Hump was the main factor in the one-sided

L. M. GRAD GAINS NAVY APPOINTMENT

"Ossie" Smith Will Be Fourth in Six Years to Enter Annapolis.

WAS GRID-TRACK STAR

Oswald Smith, Lower Merion High School graduate in the class of 1928, has been appointed to the Naval Academy at Annapolis. He was notified of the appointment last Thursday, and was told to be in readiness to undergo physical examination about the middle of August. If he passes he will leave immediately for Annapolis.

The fall term of the academy does not commence until October but the midshipmen leave on a two months' cruise prior to the opening, and "Ossie," as he is known here, hopes to pass his examination in time to make the cruise.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Smith, and is 18 years old. For the past 15 years the family have resided on the Rodman Page estate in West Manayunk near Conshohocken. "Ossie" was graduated from Lower Merion High School in June with a high scholastic standing. He was awarded a scholarship at Dickinson College and had made arrangements to enter the Carlisle institution when notice of the appointment to the Naval Academy was received.

He was a member of the debating team of the school, and was selected as alternate to Robert Kessler, Bala, to represent Lower Merion in the National oratorical contest. For three years "Ossie" was a player on the Lower Merion football team, and in his last two years was quarterback—one of the greatest the school has had. He was also a high-scoring member

LAWYER HONORED

Desmond J. McTigue, Esq., of 416 Essex avenue, who recently opened a law office in the Caldwell Building on Haverford avenue, was admitted last Wednesday to the Montgomery County Bar Association. The ceremonies took place at Norristown, where he was admitted to the Orphans' Court before Judge Holland and the Courts of Common Pleas and Quarter Sessions before President Judge Williams and Judge Knight.

MERCHANTS RALLY TO BOOST HOME- BUYING AND PROMOTE PROSPERITY

Educational Campaign Outlining the Advantages of Community Unity Through Home Shopping Policy Opens This Week.

In order to acquaint residents here with the buying values in Narberth, an educational campaign is being launched in this week's issue of Our Town.

"Spend as much of your dollars at home" is one of the slogans of the campaign. Another is: "Look over the merchandise in local stores before going elsewhere to buy."

Leading business men are endorsing the movement, fully realizing that such a campaign will do material good for all here. There is much to be gained in pointing out the advantages of patronizing home institutions.

This educational campaign, which will touch on every phase of community buying and selling will mean considerable for the Borough, for the business interests and for the people. It will serve to establish a spirit of co-operation not before exhibited here. It will solidify all interests and keep ever in view the slogan "Boost Narberth."

First of all it should be generally known that the business man is established here for the sole purpose of staying here for good. He chooses to locate here because he believes in this community.

A. C. SHAND JOINS P. R. R. HONOR ROLL

Railroad Associates Honor
Chief Engineer of System
on Retirement.

LONG BORO RESIDENT

Alexander Cattie Shand, of Rockland avenue and Merion road, Merion, and for long a resident of the Borough, joined the roll of honor of the Pennsylvania Railroad when he was retired from active service last Tuesday at the age of 70.

At the time of his retirement Mr. Shand was assistant to the vice president and chief engineer of the P. R. R., with jurisdiction over the entire system. He was one of the veteran officers of the Pennsy, having spent 49 years in its service, and was one of the foremost civil engineers of the country and a recognized leader in his profession.

On arriving at his office Tuesday he was greeted with a huge bouquet of roses. At 10 o'clock Elisha Lee, vice president, escorted him to the Board of Directors' room where the engineering department staff had assembled to do him honor.

T. J. Skillman, chief engineer, presented Mr. Lee, who in glowing terms eulogized Mr. Shand, tracing his railroad service from year to year with the many permanent "monuments," such as buildings, bridges, yards and "cut-offs" constructed during his tenure of office as chief engineer.

He then presented Mr. Shand with a gold watch as a memento from the engineering staff, and also a gold wrist watch for Mrs. Shand. In addition, he was handed an Honor Roll certificate, signed by President Atterbury, following which each of his friends and associates congratulated him on his long, faithful and useful career in the service of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Mr. Shand lived a good share of his life in the Borough, his residence here being that at the corner of Narberth and Price avenues, now occupied by Robert J. Nash. Always taking a deep interest in local affairs, there is little sign of abatement according to his friends. He was a trustee and director of the Y. M. C. A. and has been a member of the official board of the Narberth Presbytery.

These merchants are not interested in quick "clean ups," in running up sales records; but to grow steadily with the growth of the community.

Nothing can contribute to the growth of any community like a strong mercantile backing, such as has been established here. But the business men must have the help of all expressed in patronage, and expression finding force by buying at home.

Co-operation on the part of all will bring about increased benefits. It constitutes a power for good. The welfare and growth of Narberth depends upon co-operation. The business men have established themselves and invested their money here and constitute a powerful factor for the growth and betterment of the community, but they must have the co-operation of all, in order to make for success. And in a like way, the merchants must co-operate with the people in order to attain ideal community results.

Among all the "stockholders" in the future of the community, the merchants assume the largest responsibility, because theirs is the largest investment. Their confidence

DEMOCRATS MEET TO PLAN CAMPAIGN

Politics is in the air. Local Democrats are beginning to gird up their loins, which is a sure sign. A meeting was held last Friday at the Valley Forge Hotel at Norristown by the Democratic County Committee to discuss plans for the coming campaign. Among the members from all parts of the county present was Democrat Edward Samuel Haws, of Dudley avenue. Enthusiastic reports of conditions prevailing in various parts of the county were made.

The Narberth members of the Democratic County Committee include the following: First district, Carl Newborg; second district, Ed-

Description of New Money Given Young Reporter as Assignment

One of the first assignments given Miss Ruth W. Torrey, who is writing feature articles for the Washington Star, was one dealing with the new paper money to be issued next year.

Miss Torrey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic C. Torrey of 500 Essex avenue. She graduated from Barnard College a year ago and is taking a two year post graduate course in journalism at Columbia. This summer she is on the staff of the Washington Star. The article as it appeared in the Washington Star follows:

On a morning in 1929 there will be a flood of unfamiliar paper currency throughout the country. A man in Washington will look at the small sized bills with the new designs that his banker hands him and say, "Well, here it is." And a woman in a Far Western country town will finger the bill she receives for change and exclaim, "It

GILPIN CAPTURES CLAY COURT CROWN

Merion Star Defeats Lane in Final to Win Narberth
Cup Permanently.

DOUBLES FINAL SUNDAY

Sam Gilpin, of Merion, continued his winning way in net circles by annexing his second title in two weeks when he defeated Harold Lane, of Cynwyd, in the final Pennsylvania State clay court championships, Saturday, at the Narberth Tennis Club, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

By virtue of his win Gilpin gains permanent possession of the Narberth Cup, having previously won it in 1924 and 1927.

Gilpin, who the previous week defeated Lane for the Delaware State clay court championship, is also holder of Eastern States and Delaware county clay court championships.

Against Lane, Saturday, he played his best tennis in many years. There were few flaws in his play, his driving, service and volleying being well nigh perfect.

Lane put up a fine battle, but Gilpin was a little too good. Lane drove well and volleyed well, but the Merion star would not let up in his brilliant play.

Gilpin started serving and won the first game after a fine exchange. Lane retaliated on his own service. The delivery of the two players prevailed for seven games and the Merion star led 4 to 3.

Here occurred the first break of the match. Gilpin uncorked some pretty driving and quickly won the game which gave him a 5-3 lead. He then won the set on his own delivery at love.

Lane won the first game of the second set on service and almost broke through Gilpin's delivery in the second game. The latter rallied to win after deuce was called. He then continued his streak of brilliant play to win five straight games and led 5 to 1 before Lane took the seventh game at love. Gilpin's service prevailed as he won the second set.

The third set was hard fought even though Lane could win only two games, the third and sixth on his own delivery. Several of the games required deuce and each point was featured by much volleying.

Gilpin was forced to rally to win three of the games he served in the final set. The second game went to deuce twice before he won it.

Harold MacGuffin, of Belfield, and Harold Colborn, of Cynwyd, entered the final round of the doubles when they defeated Dr. Herbert Fischer, of Cynwyd, and Gilpin, 6-2, 6-3.

The MacGuffin-Colborn featured with their brilliant volleying and work at the net, scoring repeatedly with kills or lobs. Gilpin and Dr. Fischer were on the defensive throughout the greater part of the match.

The other doubles semi-final which was halted by rain on Friday will not be played until Sunday. Norman Bramall, of Idle

NOVEL REMITTANCE

One of the most unique remittances received by Our Town in many moons was one made a short time ago by a Narberth resident sojourning temporarily in Brazil. The bill rendered was for a classified ad to the amount of fifty-four cents. In came an envelope one day, postmarked Rio De Janeiro, and enclosed were Brazilian stamps in brilliant hues to the amount of $200 reis. The note accompanying said: "Sorry, but the enclosed Brazilian stamps are the best I can do down here. Maybe you can trade them in for U. S. two-cent ones." Not a chance with the editor being a stamp bug of the first water! Besides the profit on the exchange would not have been so large despite the big figures.

ATTACK MADE ON TRAFFIC HAZARDS

"Slow" Signs Will Be Placed at Eight Dangerous Street Intersections.

BORO INVESTIGATED

During the coming week "Slow" signs will be placed at several street intersections throughout the borough. This action was decided upon by the borough authorities after extensive study and observation of methods of regulating traffic in suburban communities, especially with reference to such obstructions as hedges and high banks on lawns.

The intersections which will be so marked are: Narberth and Chestnut, Narberth and Woodside, Narberth and Haverford, Narberth and Windsor, Narberth and Price, Windsor and Essex, Sabine and Essex, Sabine and Dudley.

To cut down the trees, banks and hedges would spoil the attractiveness of our suburban surroundings, and the installation of traffic lights would not help. It was found furthermore that the cost of such lights is practically prohibitive, the installation cost being $600 each and $12 per month operation costs.

In commenting on the situation Burgess Henry A. Frye said, "There has been a growing and justified recognition of the increasing hazard of our local traffic. The plan we have adopted has worked elsewhere, and if our local residents and storekeepers will but drive with a reasonable amount of caution everything will be all right."

ENTERTAIN DANES

Watts, Ardmore Rotarian, is Speaker at Balcynar Club.

"The Rotary Code of Ethics" was the subject of a talk given by J. Elmer Watts, realtor and member of the Ardmore Rotary Club, at the meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club held Tuesday noon in Cynwyd. Seven guests were present, including two from Denmark.

Peter Kvid, accompanied by Professor Olaf Fried Hansen, is one of 62 Danish boys who came to America five weeks ago by means of a reciprocal arrangement of Rotary Internationale which enables them to study life in the United States while boys from this country take their places abroad promoting international good will. The pair are guests of Guy Croyle, Merion, who is president of the Balcynar Club.

Members were presented with cigars in the course of the meeting, by Walter G. Case, Narberth electric and radio shop proprietor whose youngest son arrived this week.

Charles B. Aldred, Cynwyd merchant, will be the speaker at the meeting of the club to be held next Tuesday.

AIRMAIL REDUCED

Word was received from Assistant Postmaster J. Wallace Goodwin this week that the airmail rate is now five cents an ounce, a reduction of 400 per cent., the old rate being 10 cents a half ounce. Thus for three cents more than ordinary mail, letters (and an ounce covers all ordinary weight missives) can be sent to the coast in 36 hours. The service now extends to all parts and directions of the country. Can we attribute this reduction as a swan song of the Coolidge regime?

OUR TOWN SHIFTS MAILING SCHEDULE

Change Effective Next Week
Will Aid Week-End Shoppers and Advertisers.

OUT FRIDAY MORNING

Commencing next week Our Town will make a shift in its mailing schedule to Friday morning, which it is expected will be of value to subscribers and advertisers alike. Instead of the usual Friday printing schedule with delivery at Davis' and the post office Friday night, whereby mail subscribers got their copies Saturday morning, the whole program will be moved ahead one day.

The paper will thus be in the hands of subscribers on Friday morning, giving them opportunity to consult it about week-end shopping and also a chance to read it before the news published is no longer news.

Many local merchants have pointed out that the advertising value of Our Town was restricted by the lateness of its publication. Now by being in everyone's hands by Friday morning that defect will be remedied and a period of increased usefulness to advertisers and readers is foreseen.

Also in regard to its news content, the earlier publication date will mean fresher news. News several days old is news by courtesy only. And mayhap readers will read their papers before Sunday.

Attention is also called to the fact that the closing date for news items and advertisements will be moved ahead one day earlier in the week, i. e., Wednesday at 5 P. M. Department contributors are likewise requested to have their material in by 5 o'clock on Tuesday.

ELM A. C. DEFEATS AUTOCAR GIANTS

"Keefe" Parkes Hurls His Second Victory for New Ball Club.

WAS ELM'S THIRD WIN

By JOHN UBERTI

On the evening of Tuesday, July 31, the newly-inaugurated nine bearing the name of Elm A. C. met and defeated the Autocar Giants by a score of 8-1. Parkes, Fred Walzer's substitute moundsman, hurled the second victory of the year, allowing the visitors merely four hits, compared to six off Awkard and Cannon, of the colored nine. Having previously defeated Cynwyd in a return game, "Keefe" displayed unusual slab work as he pitched his way to victory, his absence having cost the local gang a 12-8 set-back a week prior.

To date the new baseball team has three victories to its credit, having lost one contest to Cynwyd. After they defeated the Philadelphia Cardinals in their first diamond debut, Elm A. C. suffered their first defeat at the hands of the Cynwyd nine, but revenge themselves immediately as they chalked up a 7-1 victory over their former foes.

It is interesting to know that some years back, the regular nine were completely outplayed by the Philadelphia Cards, who tabbed up a one-sided victory over the local boys.

Rubincan, former Narberth second baseman, was the leading hitter of the new troupe, while Cannon, formerly of Newton Coal, and Bounds, Radnor football star, were stellar performers of the Autocar Giants.

DESCRIBES NEW MONEY

The most startling thing about the new currency will be the change in size. It will be the first change in size in 66 years. The present bills are 7 7/16 by 3 9/16 inches, and the new ones will be 6 5/16 by 2 11/16. Thus the new bills will be practically an inch smaller in both length and breadth.

An inch may not seem a large difference, but when it is considered that there are 865,000,000 pieces of paper currency in circulation the effect of the change in size can be estimated. Not only will the necessary amount of vault space for storage be appreciably lessened but less ink and paper will be required to make the bills. On a year's output of currency 440 more tons of paper are used for the present bills than will be needed for the new ones. Of the ink paste that is used, instead of the liquid that is commonly known, 459 more tons are used now than will be used for the new money. Twelve bills will be made on the same sized plate that is now used for eight.

The smallness of the new bills may result in the elimination of the present method of folding bills lengthwise. This lengthwise folding makes a lateral crease that falls across the center of the portrait. As the portrait is the most important factor in identifying a counterfeit, Secret Service men engaged in taking notes out of circulation that fall below the standard of fitness send back the bills that are creased across the center so badly that the portrait is defaced. If the new bills are not folded across the middle, they will remain in circulation longer, and also there will be less danger of counterfeiting.

Another feature of the new currency, the standardization of portraits, will aid greatly in decreasing counterfeiting. The paper money now in circulation lacks uniformity of portraits. The new bills will have a definite portrait for each denomination. These can be easily memorized, and it will be far more difficult for note raisers to be done. If a counterfeiter raises the value of a note, the wrong combination of numeral and portrait will be quickly noticed.

The decided changes in size and design of the currency have been considered by the Treasury Department and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing for 20 years. On September 10, 1910, a statement was issued of a contemplated change in size to measurements that were the same as those of the Philippine currency. On February 26, 1913, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing was instructed to proceed with the engraving of dies and preparing of plates for the new designs. But the World War started a year later, and the demands made upon the bureau for paper currency and bonds rendered a reduction of the size of the currency impossible at the time.

In 1925 the Treasury Department appointed a committee on currency design, size and other related matters. This committee decided on the size of the new currency, and suggested a list of portraits which was entirely confined to well known men. After some revision, the final list was decided upon.

The persons honored and the denominations are: $1, Washington; $2, Jefferson; $5, Lincoln; $10, Hamilton; $20, Jackson; $50, Grant; $100, Franklin; $500, McKinley; $1000, Cleveland; $5000, Madison; and $10000 Chase.

The designs for the new currency have been decided by the committee, and by Claire Aubrey Huston, the designer of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. All of the designs have been completed and approved. The dies have been completed for the 1, 5 and 10 dollar bills, and practically completed for the 2, 20 and 50 dollar bills. Engraving on the remaining dies is under way.

The new designs of the bills will tend to suppress the differences that are now so great between the five types of paper currency. The five types of each denomination above $2 will be practically identical. Twotypes of $2 bills will be issued. There are no longer several types of the $1 bill; there is only the silver certificate. In a few years the obsolete varieties will be comparatively rare, and therefore valuable.

There are other changes that are being worked out by the Treasury Department besides the smaller size and the new designs and the standardization of portraits, some of which may be introduced when the new currency is issued. One improvement that will be made will be in the folding strength of the paper. A bill now has a folding strength of 1800 folds; the new bills will have a folding strength of approximately 3500 folds.

Experiments will also be made to see if a high folding strength correlates with a high standard of life of the bill. At present it seems that 3500 folds to a bill is the highest number that correlates with the successful printing of the bill. An additional factor is that it is more difficult to print paper of every high folding strength.

Possible improvements in the sizing solution have been tested. The sizing solution is a coating that is placed on the bill to make it more durable. At present glue is used.

The serial number of a bill, the lettering at the side in blue ink, is put on after the glue bath. It is the last thing that is done to the bill, because one machine cuts the bills from the sheet and prints the serial numbers at the same time. Any sizing solution that is yet to be discovered must be one that does not interfere with printing. The life of a bill will be greatly increased if something can be discovered that will make it more flexible.

The small red and blue markings on either side of the portrait, that look like pen tracings, are worked into the fiber of the paper in finer silk fibers and the whole called "distinctive paper." This distinctive paper will not be used for the new currency. It is believed to be more of an aid than a hindrance to counterfeiting, because the ordinary person looks at the localized fibers for a guarantee of genuineness and neglects to inspect the body of the bill.

There will be no definite guarantee of accuracy on the new paper, such as the fibers now used or the watermarks on French notes. But the paper will have an unnoticeable silk fiber that will be present for the benefit of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. This slightly distinctive paper has been adopted for accountability purposes.

The new currency was expected to be in circulation by this time. In fact Secretary Dewey planned to have it issued by last December, and make a Christmas gift of it to the people of the Nation. But the work of designing and the preparation for changes in the machinery have gone more slowly than was expected.

The day of the new money will probably be in the middle of next year. And in preparation for it shopping will be signalized by the purchase of millions of smaller billfolds and purses and glorified by a last flourished spending of the old "blanket" bills.

ODD FELLOWS PICNIC

Ardmore Girl Wins Prize at Chester Outing.

Many Odd Fellows from Lower Merion and Narberth attended a picnic of the order held at Bonnie Brae Park, Chester, Saturday. Six hundred three-linkers from Montgomery and Philadelphia counties were present at guests of the Chester County Third District Association.

Among prize winners was Harriett Seasholtz, Ardmore, who won a large inflated ball for winning the 75-yard dash for girls between six and nine years of age. Mr. McLeeds, also of Ardmore, was tied with Charles Marshall, Spring City, in a guessing contest and lost on the flip of a coin.

Advocate New Device

Superintendent Charles P. Smith, of Lower Merion police, has returned from Hazleton, where he attended a convention of Pennsylvania chiefs of police. Among other State legislation proposed at the conclave was the installation by the State Police of an $185,000 automatic typewriter-telegraph device in police stations, which Superintendent Smith claims will pay for itself in two years by eliminating costly telegraphic communication.

TRY FIRST AT HOME

A sound, sensible business request that every person should heed, because it means extra dollars to each one. The merchants hereabouts want your business—they want your neighbor's business. They realize that to get your business they must give you value received for every dollar you spend with them.

The profit which the merchant realizes from any sale he makes is an added asset to the wealth of Narberth.

POEM DEDICATED TO PRODUCE MART HERE

There is a store in Narberth that likes to express its advertising in poetic form. Hence this poem from the pen of Morris Strauss, brother of Sam, who is the proprietor of the Narberth Fruit and Produce Market:

"The store that is white,
With lights that are bright,
Selling all produce right."

The Strauss boys make daily trips to the big marts of Philadelphia, where fruits and vegetables are selected especially for their patrons in Narberth. Delivery is made in time for meals.
On Fridays special service in fish is offered.

MONTGOMERY DYERS

IN TAILORING LINE

With the announcement of the arrival of fall patterns for suits and topcoats, Montgomery Cleaners & Dyers, 35 North Narberth Avenue, announce the acquisition of Anthony Fiodo as custom tailor for the establishment.

Mr. Fiodo is an experienced tailor with many years' experience and was a designer at one time for Andreen & Wacker, of Philadelphia, one of the leading tailoring firms of the Quaker City.

The new patterns include tweeds, woolsens, worsteds and a new type called worsted twist suitings, which is expected to be a popular vogue among the better dressed men. Hundreds of patterns are on hand. Suits are made at reasonable prices.

Montgomery Cleaners & Dyers call attention also to a service plan, which is new in this section. Those who contemplate a vacation, are invited to turn over their fall garments to this place, and these garments will be put in condition during the August days and be ready when the vacationist arrives home for fall activities. Alteration, pressing, cleaning and dyeing are all embraced in this service.

ACCIDENT STATISTICS BY

J. BAIRD CALDWELL

Verily the way of the pedestrian is hard. If it is not the automobile that causes the pedestrian's nerves to become frazzled, there are objects to fall on him, yawning holes awaiting to engulf him, sharp particles on which he must step, and numerous other pitfalls he must pass successfully before he can claim his life as his own.

"Strange as it may seem to agile-footed pedestrians of the twentieth century, the menace of the automobile is not his most frequent threat, it is disclosed by the personal accident statistics, which have just reached our office from one of the companies we represent," said J. Baird Caldwell, of the real estate and insurance firm of John Caldwell, in Narberth. "The person accustomed to threading his way in and out of present-day traffic has grown to be something of an expert in his hop, skip and jump among automobiles, street cars, and human beings, all intent on getting somewhere in particular.

"But while he has mastered in some respects the problem of avoiding injury by an automobile, the pedestrian is finding the complexity of self-locomotion increasingly difficult. By necessity he has become quick of limb, but in acquiring nimbleness, he has lost some of his stability of perambulation."

"In 1927 the statistics show that 3268 pedestrians returned to their homes sadder and wiser as a result of their experience on the broad highways and streets. Only 443 of this number were victims of the automobile. More than 2000 either fell over things, into traps, off platforms or over objects, and of this number 1324 tumbled on the pavement and uneven ground. In meeting their injuries by falls, 665 slipped on ice, seven stepped into ditches and trenches, 32 fell on steps and 57 over objects in their paths.

"The automobile was not the only object in motion that caused the downfall of some pedestrians, because the records reveal that 61 were bitten by animals, four by insects, and that eight were hit by bicycles, while in 27 instances persons could not get out of each other's way in time to avoid an injurious collision."

DRUG STORE GIVES

COMMUNITY SERVICE

More than 1000 different items are handled in a drug store during the course of a week's sales.

Chris Koch, who conducts the drug store on Haverford avenue, in Narberth, says "the public has no conception of the variety of sales made by the store, from sales of one cent to eight and 10 dollars."

"No other store in the community sells such a diversified line of merchandise," said Mr. Koch. "People are constantly coming in and asking for new things. The druggist immediately stocks it for future calls. In this manner his stock grows."

The drug store undertakes a wide variety of activities to serve the community and the proprietor is a counselor as well as a business man. His knowledge must be well-founded to hold the confidence of the people.

Furthermore, save for the delicatessen, the druggist puts in the longest hours of any merchant of the town in which he operates.

FIRM STANDS BEHIND WORK

Adelizzi Bros., who have been engaged in the dyeing and cleaning business in Narberth for many years, lend emphasis to the statement that they back all work with the firm's assurance that it is satisfactorily done.

"We stand behind our work," is the slogan which this enterprising firm uses in its business. The dyeing and cleaning end of the business is one of the firm's largest, although it has many clients among men and women who have their garments altered and put in condition.

POINTS OUT ADVANTAGES

OF FIXING FURS NOW

Complete service is rendered by J. Alman, the ladies' and gents' tailor at 105 Essex avenue. This does not only include cleaning and dyeing, as well as alteration work and pressing, but also includes expert attention to furs. Here furs are cleaned, repaired and glazed. He also features the relining of fur coats.

Mr. Alman calls attention to the fact that this is a good time to bring in furs for repairs, inasmuch as the repairing costs are less during August, and also the fact that this work will be done in time for wear, should the weather turn suddenly cold during the autumnal days.

Alteration work is done on both ladies' and gents' garments.

EXPERIENCE BEHIND

DRIZIN SHOE TRADE

A store that reflects modernity and service is the shoe shop conducted by John Drizin, adjoining the Narberth Theatre. It is a complete shoe store in every particular, with merchandise attractively arranged to please the eye. Fixtures and appointments give the proper background.

Mr. Drizin knows the shoe business. He has been in it for 11 years. He was formerly associated with I. Miller in Philadelphia. When he started operations in Narberth, he decided to make a thorough study of shoe lines before buying his merchandise. The result was the present installation of Edwards' shoes for children, exclusively sold here; the "Bostonians" for men; the "Matrix" shoe for women. All sizes and all styles are in stock, from triple A's to D's.

Hosiery is also prominently displayed by Mr. Drizin. He sells the well-known Gotham Gold Stripe for women and the Holeproof sock for men.

SAVINGS IN HARDWARE

OFFERED IN NARBERTH

City prices in hardware and house furnishings of standard quality have no advantage over the prices that are maintained by the Narberth Hardware Company, in Narberth, which takes pride in the fact that its merchandise is purchased from the manufacturer, in many instances, thus eliminating the jobbers' profit.

At the same time, the Narberth Hardware Co. makes it a policy plan to render the maximum amount of service, with a convenience in timely delivery that is appreciated by those who have taken advantage of the trading facilities offered by this enterprising store.

This store subscribes to the plan of having residents look over merchandise in the local stores before spending the dollar away from home and with total strangers.

BIG RADIO REDUCTIONS

AT NARBERTH STORE

Among the bargains announced in connection with reduction in prices of radio sets at the Narberth Electric Store, is a special low price on a combination radio and record instrument, the Radiola "17" and the Brunswick Panatone. Here is combined the newest Brunswick Panatone with the latest R. C. A. radio receiver, utilizing the latest type A. C. tubes. Every kind of music comes in this amazing instrument, both recorded and broadcasted, and comes accurately. It operates from the electric light socket, without batteries.

The Narberth Electric Shop is also calling attention to reduction in prices of the Steinite sets, including socket light types and battery sets. In fact, there are a number of radio bargains listed, any of which are available for demonstration any time.

CORD WOOD ON SALE

Cord wood, in any quantity, is being offered by Jacob Greiner for delivery to the home for cold weather use. Mr. Greiner is calling attention to the fact that this wood is selling very low at this time. Delivery is made to the home.

Mr. Greiner also engages in the work of excavating, roadwork and hauling.

contest with the South Ardmore club. Standing beside Mike on short, the fans saw how age outplayed youth, Mulligan getting three successive errors to his name. However, he managed to stay ahead of his rival man on short, who collected six errors, the rest of the team aiding in totaling 11.

Lindsay walked, Gilly sacrificed and Humphries stroled. Gillespie hit to right whereupon Lindsay came in, Dillworth's error costing the run. Humphries was thrown out when caught between third and home and Gillespie succeeded him at third. Master grounded to center admitting Gillespie and Fleck doubled to center tallying two as Walt crossed the fourth plate.

2 runs, 3 hits, 1 error.

The fourth and fifth each contributed another two for the Walzermen. Fleck gained first as the second baseman erred and Peterson sacrificed. Mike took two bases as the lad on second muffed number two whereupon Vernie crossed the rubber. Tony skied to center and Lindsay doubled to left forwarding the youthful shortstop.

2 runs, 1 hit, 2 errors.

The veteran and Gillespie started the fifth with a single. Master scoring Humphries and advancing Johnny to third as he sacrificed on second. Wernie nabbed first as Hanna failed to oust Gillespie coming home; pitcher's choice. Peterson hit high to the right fielder, who muffed the skyscraper, whereupon Fleck barely took second.

2 runs, 3 hits, 1 error.

Then followed the gruesome sixth, not to mention anything of the horrible seventh.

With one out, Gilfillan took bases as Rutty, second baseman, threw wildly for the second time. Humphries doubled from his rifle-like shot to short scoring Gilfillan. Babb singled forwarding the vet and advancing Johnny to third. Hanna failing considerably, McClain took to the hill. Fleck passed the first heave as Babb grabbed second and then stroled filling the canvasses. Peterson went to first from a bingle to short scoring the Villanova star and Babb cross the pentagon as the second baseman threw wildly the third time, advancing Vernie to third. Flynn muffed one as Peterson took second and Mike singled and went on to second as Vernie was being played back and forth finally losing out. McMonagle doubled to deep center scoring Big Boy Peterson and Mulligan and then went to third as the second baseman muffed another.

Lindsay was forced to retire from the game being hit hard from McClain's uncontrolled heave, Martin walking. Rutty took to the mound and Gilly opened on him with a single as the shortstop threw poorly attempting to oust Martin on second. Humphries scored the star of the House of David fray and Gilfillan as the second baseman threw wildly to first for the fourth time. Hampshire pinch hit for Gillespie, took first as Rutty hit him. Babb took two, walking them with leisure as Humphries and Hampshire crossed for number 9, Lindsay forwarding Babb for the tenth.

10 runs, 6 hits, 4 errors.
Peterson singled and Mike stroled. Mac jammed the lanes from his single to short. Schofield, substitute pitcher, walked, forcing Peterson home; Gilly singled forcing Schofield out on second and scoring Mulligan and McMonagle. Davis doubled admitting Gilly and Martin singled, advancing Davis to third. Babb was thrown out on first as Davis tagged the fourth sack. Vernie took second as the first baseman muffed one, McMonagle tabbing up the final run.

7 runs, 6 hits, 1 error.

ELM A. C. LOSES TO KEEN RIVALS

Cynwyd Emerges victor in Deciding Contest Featured by Homers.

SCORE WAS 12 TO 9

By JOHN UBERTI

Returning to the diamond to engage in a fray with their keenest rivals Elm A. C. lost to Cynwyd Thursday as a sudden rally in the closing frames failed to pass the wide margin held by the visitors. Babb, on the slab the first half of the fracas, was the defeated moundman, who was relieved by Parkes, Lower Merion contribution, who allowed four of the 15 hits. The rivals hit the former Harrowgate player at will, a circuit bingle being one of their feats and also walked considerably; but Parkes quelled their desire to romp away with any more homers as they nabbed three themselves.

This was Elm's third meeting with Cynwyd, each having one victory to their credit, a best-out-of-three series deciding their supremacy.

Cynwyd started the fireworks, presto! as they romped away with four runs. B. Thomas began with circuit clout No. 1. Zengrel contributed second run as he galloped around the four sacks, errors on the part of the first and third-basemen costing his scoring. This was not a home run. Humphries scored C. Thomas from his double to left, and Montague scored Carpenter, who had stolen third.

Cynwyd took one in the second and Elm chalked up their first three.

With the bases full B. Maxwell forwarded Thomas, two flies keeping the visitors from further scoring.

Babb scored off Harris' double and Parkes pushed the cowhide out into center for another home run, tallying three.

In the third Elm A. C. grabbed three more as Harris hit homer No. 3 with two men on, but Cynwyd marked up one to tie the situation.

In the sixth the visitors ran away with six runs and Humphries nabbed the fourth homer as the local team began a desperate rally.

With Callahan on second Powell got one, a hard bingle, forwarding the former as one-run-an-inning predominated through the remainder of the game.

Babb's double in the seventh, immediately scoring on the third baseman's and catcher's fumbles, gave Elm the ninth and final run.

NEW BOOKS LISTED

Library Acquisition During July Ready for Readers.

The books purchased by the Narberth Library during July now ready for distribution include many titles which will doubtless receive a well-merited popularity at the hands of local readers. In the non-fiction group, to mention only two, are the biography of one of the greatest exponents of the drama seen on the stage today—George Arliss—whose performances in the "Merchant of Venice," in Philadelphia last winter, will be recalled with pleasure by many; and "Ways of Behaviorism," a popular exposition of that subject by its high priest, John B. Watson.

In the fiction group no lovers of Galsworthy or of the Forsyte family will miss "Swan Song," the last novel of that truly epic creation. A new novel by the English novelist, Storm Jameson is also an event worthy of notice; while "Banbi" has received sufficient publicity to relieve us of that duty.

The complete list follows:
Non-fiction.
"Up the Years from Bloomsbury," by George Arliss; "Popular History of American Invention," "Ways of Behaviorism," by John B. Watson; "Modern Use of the Bible," by Harry Emerson Fosdick; "World's Great Religious Poetry," by H. M. Hill; "Immortality," by B. H. Streeter; "Story of the Ten Commandments," by G. H. Moeblman; "Plays, Players and Playhouses," by Irma Kraft.

Fiction.
"Cavalier of Tennessee," by Meredith Nicholson; "Bambi," by Felix Salton; "The Six Proud Walkers," by Francis Beeding; "Hay Wire," by B. M. Bower; "Swan Song," by John Galsworthy; "Black House in Harley Street," by J. S. Fletcher; "Juggermatt," by Alice Campbell; "Farewell to Youth," by Storm Jameson; "Mystery of the Blue Train," by Christie; "Tide of Empire," by Peter B. Kyne; "With Malice Toward None," by H. W. Morrow.

of the Lower Merion track team.
All Four Were Grid Stars.

Smith is one of four Lower Merion students who have won appointments to the Naval Academy in recent years. The others are Constantine Silard, Albert Kohlas and Robert Patton. All four were football stars, and three were quarterbacks.

"Connie" Silard, formerly of School lane, Ardmore, left Lower Merion in 1922, while in his Junior year, to win his Annapolis appointment. He was graduated from the academy in 1926, and is now stationed with the aviation detachment of the Navy at Pensacola, Florida. He was an end on the Lower Merion football team, and a great drop-kicker.

Robert Patten, son of former Postmaster Fred C. Patten, Woodside avenue, Narberth, was a quarterback on the Lower Merion eleven, was graduated from the Ardmore institution in the class of '25, and is due to graduate from Annapolis next year.

Albert P. Kohlas, Jr., son of Albert P. Kohlas, 105 Sibley avenue, Ardmore, who is superintendent of building and maintenance for the Autocar plant, established a Plebe pole vault record at Annapolis this year. He won his appointment to the Naval Academy after having graduated from Lower Merion in 1927. He was a star quarterback on the grid eleven and a broad-jump, pole-vault and mile-relay performer on the track team.

dence in the growth and stability of the town prompts them to build large buildings and fill them with goods. The ambition of every merchant, dealer and business man is to make the investment larger, the results being that the share that the community receives in the way of larger taxes is available for greater improvements and betterments.

And the merchant has the interests of the community at heart. Even from a purely selfish standpoint, he is the best booster for the community because the greater the well-being of the people, the better pay they receive for their labor, the more comfortable their homes are and the better the streets are kept, and more efficient the schools, the better the fire and police protection, the more attractive does the community prove for others seeking homes, and therefore the greater is the number of his possible customers. To maintain this ideal, the merchant must have the support of the people.

rian Church for over twenty years.

Mr. Shand has one son, Alexander C. Shand, Jr., who was married recently and now lives in Germantown.

Mr. Shand's entire career has been devoted to the engineering profession, as applied to railroad development and operation. He began work with the Pennsylvania Railroad in 1879 at Connellysburg, Pa., where extensive location and construction enterprises were being inaugurated. Following this initial experience, he was rapidly promoted in the service, enjoying unusually wide and varied contacts with many phases of railroad work.

In August, 1884, Mr. Shand was appointed Supervisor of Altoona yard, and five years later was made Assistant Engineer of Maintenance of Way at Altoona. In January, 1901, he was promoted to the position of Superintendent of the Altoona Division. Two years later Mr. Shand was made Engineer of Maintenance of Way, and on April 1, 1905, was appointed Assistant Chief Engineer at Philadelphia. On March 1 of the following year he was promoted to the position of Chief Engineer, with jurisdiction over the lines East of Pittsburgh and Erie.

During the period of Federal control of the railroads for wartime purposes Mr. Shand continued as Chief Engineer, lines East of Pittsburgh and Erie, under the United States Railroad Administration. On March 1, 1920, when the railroads were returned to their owners he was appointed Chief Engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad with jurisdiction over the entire system.

On February 1, 1927, Mr. Shand was promoted to the newly-created position of Assistant to Vice President and was assigned special engineering duties in connection with the company's plans for the new Philadelphia passenger station on the west bank of the Schuylkill River. He has continued in this position until the present time.

DOG BITES MAILMAN

A mishap occurred on Thursday morning to Joseph Weber, mail carrier at the Merion post office, when he was bitten by a Russian wolfhound owned by Forrester Scott, of Linden lane, Merion.

Weber was walking along the street when the dog jumped at him from behind, biting his ear, then chewing up the mailman's hat. The injury required four stitches, resulting also in a torn hat and a delay of an hour and a half in the remaining mail deliveries. No explanation of the dog's conduct was forthcoming other than the assertion by his owner that he was not vicious.

ELIMINATED

Dr. Carl Fischer, Cynwyd, was defeated in the opening play of the 35th annual Seabright tennis tournament Monday, when J. Gilbert Hall, Montclair, N. J., downed him in hard-fought sets, 2-6, 8-6, 6-2. At the same time William Aydelotte, national indoor champion, disposed of Wallace Johnson, Cynwyd, 6-4, 6-4.
